About this piece

E. A. Taylor made by Wylie and Lochhead

An Arts & Crafts mahogany display cabinet or sideboard, with upper open shelf and gallery with capped uprights to the sides, a central upper cupboard with Voysey-style green glass tree details, flanked by open display areas with pierced hearts below in each corner and a central original bevelled mirror and a work area below.

Below is a fully glazed display cabinet with original velvet velour interior and an open display area to the base with central uprights united by a cross support above and a sweeping under tier to the front and side, standing on ring-turned feet.

The handles have hand-hammered stylised floral heads with seeds below, and the cabinet retains the original key.
