

Henry William Batley Possibly for Gillows of Lancaster. A Large Aesthetic Movement Exhibition Quality Oak & Walnut Bracket Clock

Ref: PV003124

Price on Application

DESIGNER	Henry William Batley
PERIOD	Aesthetic Movement , 1870-1879
YEAR	1877
STYLE	Aesthetic Movement
ORIGIN	United Kingdom
MATERIALS	Oak, Walnut
CONDITION	Good

About this piece

Henry William Batley possibly for Gillows of Lancaster

A large Aesthetic Movement exhibition quality oak and walnut bracket clock. The top edge beautifully carved with floral decoration and the Green Man to the centre. An arched lattice and gilded section below. A circular brass dial with a quote which reads: Teach Us To Number Our Days and 1877 with initials W RW.

Below and to the back there are carved circular devices and two small turned supports in front. The main turned supports are written Corinthian columns with boxwood capitals and boxwood bases on a flaring base.