

Richard Rathbone Attributed, Arts & Crafts 'a Frame' Copper Wall Sconce with Riveted Ruskin Jewel

Ref: PV004313

£1,800

|            |                                                                |
|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|
| MAKER      | Richard Rathbone                                               |
| PERIOD     | Arts & Crafts Movement , 1900-1909                             |
| YEAR       | 1905                                                           |
| STYLE      | Arts and Crafts                                                |
| ORIGIN     | United Kingdom                                                 |
| MATERIALS  | Copper, Ruskin                                                 |
| DIMENSIONS | H: 7.87 in (20 cm)   W: 5.31 in (13.5 cm)   D: 4.72 in (12 cm) |
| CONDITION  | Good                                                           |

About this piece

Richard Rathbone attributed

An Arts and Crafts 'A frame' copper wall sconce with riveted Ruskin Jewel to the top and a fine hand wrought iron support for the candle holder. The edges of the main frame are hammered alternatively in a delightful way, as too is the edge to the circular copper disc supporting the Ruskin jewel.